A Practical, Two-Day Institute Focused on Increasing Achievement of ELL Students and Helping Them Exit Your ELL Program

Plan to attend as a school or district team, a representative team member or district leader to increase the effectiveness of your ELL program. You will learn how to build on the success of your current program, identify the key components that have the greatest impact on the achievement of ELL students and find the specific areas you need to target for implementation and improvement. Leave equipped with a wealth of the most effective ELL instructional strategies that will help increase the achievement and progress of your ELL students in Grades K-8.

Develop a Plan to Structure Your ELL Program for Greater Results and to Boost Teacher Expertise

Discover the attributes of highly successful ELL programs and how you can use these in your own program, including building teacher instructional expertise in working with ELL students. Gain dozens of practical, instructional strategies you can use immediately with your students. During the two days, you will learn how to better serve ELL students in the general education classroom as well as in a pull-out model. You will learn key strategies to lead and teach other educators to implement effective instructional practices that work with your ELL population. Don't miss this unique two-day opportunity to strengthen the achievement of your ELL students and exit them from your ELL program.

A Message From Institute Leader, Mary Peterson

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

MARY PETERSON is a highly experienced and enthusiastic ELL leader, teacher and outstanding national presenter who is known for her motivating and practical strategies and ideas. She has firsthand experience teaching English language learners and implementing positive changes to school-wide ELL programs. She is the author of Help English Learners Exit Your ELL Program: Powerful Strategies to Increase Student Success (Grades K-8), the extensive digital resource handbook each participant will receive at her two-day institute. Mary's presentations are fast-paced, inspiring, and above all, practical and research based. You will gain a wealth of ideas, strategies and activities you can implement immediately to increase the success of your ELL program.

Dear Colleague:

As an experienced teacher of ELL students, I know firsthand the challenges we face to help our students achieve at the high standards expected of them. In this highly practical institute, you will receive research-based strategies that have been proven to strengthen language skills of ELL students. I have seen so many students get stuck at the intermediate English levels and stay there for years. I will share with you highly effective and motivating strategies to help our students more rapidly "exit" the ELL program. I will provide dozens of cooperative group, whole group, small group and independent activities to motivate and engage students at each level of language acquisition. You will learn numerous games, engaging activities, and innovative ideas to teach language skills across the curriculum.

Helping our ELL students gain confidence and competence as they learn English can be very rewarding. Being a member of a culturally diverse classroom can be an enriching experience for teachers and students. You will leave this institute with a wealth of highly effective and practical strategies for accelerating language skills, promoting self-esteem, and creating a community of active, engaged learners. Let me share what I have learned with you, so that you can also experience the rewards of helping your ELL students make more rapid progress. "Exiting" students from your ELL program because they have acquired English language proficiency is the best kind of caseload reduction there is! You'll leave this institute feeling invigorated and equipped with a toolbox full of ideas, resources and strategies you can use immediately. I look forward to meeting you at the institute!

Sincerely,

Mary Peterson

P.S. You will leave this institute with an extensive digital resource handbook and dozens of use-tomorrow strategies, and a renewed desire to make a significant difference in the lives of your English Learners.

"Let me share what I have learned with you, so that you can also experience the rewards of helping your ELL students make more rapid progress."
