A Message From Seminar Leader, Karen Scott

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

KAREN SCOTT is an award-winning school librarian and is a frequent presenter at local, state, and national conferences. She is a current member of the Great Graphic Novels and Teens Top 10 committees, a past member of the Margaret Edwards Award Committee and the Amelia Walden Award Committee (ALAN and NCTE). She is a past member of the 2020 Newbery Committee. She is an active member of the American Association of School Librarians and previously served on AASL's 2023 National Conference Committee. She has previously served on YALSA's ALEX committee and AASL's Best Digital Tools Committee. She is an instructor of Young Adult Literature at the university level. Karen is a highly experienced secondary librarian, is considered an expert in the field by her peers and has been her school's Teacher of the Year. She has worked extensively with the library media standards of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards. She has reviewed for School Library Journal and Library Media Connection. She has also served on the United States for Best Books for Youth's committee for Outstanding Books for Teens, and on the selection committee for Wilson's Children's Catalog.

Dear Colleague:

I'll admit it: I am, always have been, and always will be a reader. I have a TBR pile in every single room of my home. This passion for reading and books fueled my career choice as a school librarian. I spend much of my day talking about books, reading about books, and reading books to recommend which books you should read and teach next.

Like you, I understand the importance of reading. We all know readers are much more successful in school and on standardized achievement tests. More importantly, readers can see themselves in the situations and in the characters of books. Books allow readers to experience both a window and a mirror into their worlds.

Publishers produce an enormous and often overwhelming number of books each year. I know how challenging it can be to keep up with all those titles and that's why I'm here to help. I read extensively in all genres and will share with you the best books in those genres.

We will also discuss ways to use the best books with classrooms and students. We will combine reading with the best websites and apps you can use to engage all of your readers and learners. Building a culture of reading occurs when we are passionate about reading and can engage students with current and relevant titles. Our ultimate goal is to hook students on reading and my belief is it can happen with just the right book. I will share a diverse list of books to encourage reading and help you put just the right book in the hands of your students.

I cannot wait to spend the day with you sharing fabulous new titles already published and books you should be looking forward to. This day is about readers and doing what we love – exploring amazing books!

Sincerely,

Karen Scott

P.S. Come prepared for a fast-paced, fun-filled day surrounded by the best new books!

"I will share a diverse list of books to encourage reading and help you put just the right book in the hands of your students."

What Your Colleagues Say About Karen Scott

"I love this day. The opportunity to hear from an educator about books that work and different ways they can be integrated. Just wonderful; I come every year and always walk away inspired."
