A Message From Seminar Leader, Linda Klotz

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

LINDA KLOTZ is an outstanding first grade teacher and a highly sought-after presenter. She has extensive experience teaching in both in-person and distance learning environments with first grade students and brings a firsthand understanding of the challenges of helping students who may have fallen behind academically and socially. She has presented nationally for school districts and at early primary conferences and seminars. Linda's seminars are packed with innovative yet highly practical ideas you'll be able to use immediately. She is the author of Catching Up Students Who Have Fallen Behind in FIRST GRADE, the extensive resource handbook each participant will receive at the seminar. You will leave this seminar with a wealth of proven techniques and practical strategies that you can implement immediately in working with first grade students.

Dear Colleague:

As a current First Grade Teacher, I know firsthand the challenges of First Graders who have fallen behind. The unfortunate reality is that due to COVID-19, despite our best efforts, many of our First Grade students' learning took a dramatic turn downward, leaving them with shaky foundations and gaps in their learning. In spite of all this, we can and MUST do our part to continue to do what we do best - TEACH! The good news is that I can help you!

In this information-packed, fast-paced NEW seminar, I will share with you a wealth of cutting-edge, proven techniques to help you catch up your students who have fallen behind. Whether you are teaching at school or online, I have designed this seminar to share practical ideas and approaches you can use to help your students who are frustrated, reluctant, lack the stamina and motivation, or struggle to understand the instruction. I will share ways to engage your first graders and make learning fun. We will explore scaffolding techniques as well as ways to make the most of your small group targeted instruction.

Join me and experience a productive day of learning filled with highly practical strategies and resources designed to help you make a huge difference in your First Grade students' learning. My goal is to give you an array of ideas and activities to help you use the next day with your students. I look forward to meeting you and sharing my experiences, strategies and insights with you.

Sincerely,

Linda Klotz

P.S. My seminar will arm you with a toolkit full of engaging, easy-to-implement activities and resources. You will leave re-energized, confident and ready to meet your First Grade students right where they are to make a remarkable difference with their academic learning.

'I will share with you a wealth of cutting-edge, proven techniques to help you catch up your students who have fallen behind.'
