Practical Ideas and Strategies

Students with attention-seeking and manipulative behaviors are becoming more and more prevalent in our schools. Because of the pandemic teaching structure, more students seem to be reluctant to re-engage and exhibit school-appropriate behavior. These students are very difficult to reach and even more difficult to teach. They often exhibit severe and disruptive behavior patterns, infringe on others' rights, disrupt the classroom environment, and stop their own learning as well as that of others. This outstanding seminar is designed to offer grades 1-12 educators powerful tools and techniques for changing students' negative behaviors into positive, productive learning behaviors.

Cindy Jones, an exceptional educator and presenter, will share classroom-proven ideas, techniques and strategies that she has successfully used with her own students for many years. Her practical ideas and fun, interactive style will keep you excited and entertained as you learn valuable, new strategies. You will leave with many highly effective and game-changing ideas you'll be able to use immediately with your attention-seeking and manipulative students.

A Message From Seminar Leader, Cindy Jones

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

CINDY JONES has extensive experience as a teacher of special needs and general education students, a crisis interventionist, a principal of a school for students with behavior and emotional challenges, an at-risk consultant, diagnostician, mentor for new teachers, and behavior specialist. In addition, she is an energetic and passionate national presenter specializing in instructional and behavior strategies and creative approaches to working with students who have attention-seeking and manipulative behaviors that disrupt their own learning, along with other students' learning. Because of her extensive background, she is able to offer dozens of practical and effective strategies that have worked for her and countless educators in both special and general education settings. Her lively, practical seminars feature cutting-edge, research-based information, engaging activities and effective strategies that will work for you.

You will leave Cindy's seminar with a new bag of tools for working with attention-seeking, manipulative and difficult student behaviors.

Dear Colleague:

Student behaviors are changing. Many students come to school or show up for online learning hurting, hostile, unmotivated, and uninterested in school. We, as educators, often spend 80% of our time with 20% of the class who are defiant, disrespectful and off-task. I invite you to join me for a highly practical seminar focused on strategies for attention-seeking, manipulative and difficult-to-teach students. During the day, you will discover many new ideas for reaching even your most difficult and defiant students.

Many students act out because it has worked for them in the past. They either do not possess the appropriate skills to make good choices or have been reinforced for making the wrong choices. I have designed this seminar specifically for teachers, counselors, social workers, administrators, and school psychologists dealing with defiant and hard-to-reach students. The skills presented are ones I have gained through my own experience as an educator for over forty years and from interacting with many highly skilled educators. I have seen students who were engaged in constant attention-seeking behaviors to those with severe physical aggression change and grow when the correct intervention skills were applied.

My goal for the day is for you to leave the seminar with many new, practical tools that can help you with addressing student behaviors that threaten to stop our teaching, interfere with our students' learning and steal your joy as an educator. Please join your colleagues and me for an exciting day filled with practical and creative strategies for changing the lives of your students and refilling your teacher toolbox.

Sincerely,

Cindy Jones

P.S. You will leave with dozens of practical ideas and an extensive resource handbook to help you implement the strategies in your classroom!

'Please join your colleagues and me for an exciting day filled with practical and creative strategies for changing the lives of your students and refilling your teacher toolbox.'
