Practical Ideas and Strategies

This NEW seminar is designed for K-12 educators who want to strengthen the learning for their ELL students using the best tech tools and instructional strategies to enhance learning for ELL students. Instructional Specialist, Tricia Cecil, will demonstrate instructional tools, strategies, and resources that accelerate learning for English Language Learners. Explore how to leverage the strengths of your ELL students while minimizing teacher preparation time. Common classroom discussion, reading, and writing activities do not always successfully translate, but the strategies shown in this seminar will have your ELL students participating more often, gaining confidence and developing language skills while achieving content objectives. Tricia will share her practical and timesaving techniques using a variety of the most cutting-edge tech tools to best meet ELL student needs. No matter your experience level with technology or working with ELL students, you will leave this seminar with a wealth of ideas you can implement in your classroom tomorrow. You will also receive an extensive digital resource handbook, Best Tech Tools to Enhance Learning for Your ELL Students, filled with step-by-step instructions, templates, and other helpful materials to extend your learning after the seminar.

A Message From Seminar Leader, Tricia Cecil

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

Tricia Cecil is an experienced teacher and National Board Certified educator who has taught ELL students using proven strategies combined with the latest tech tools. As an Education Technology specialist and teacher, Tricia has worked with teachers and students to use tech tools to create blended learning and flipped classroom environments. She has taught workshops for K-12 educators in Project GLAD® and Culturally and Linguistically Responsive Instruction. Tricia is passionate about helping teachers discover and use practical and effective instructional strategies that both work for a diverse class and specifically benefit English Language Learners. Tricia is the author of Best Tech Tools to Enhance Learning for Your ELL Students, the extensive digital resource handbook each participant will receive at the seminar. You'll leave Tricia's seminar with a wealth of powerful strategies you can use immediately to more effectively meet the learning needs of your ELL students as you teach.

Dear Colleague:

The pandemic not only changed where we teach (remote, in-person, or a mix) but has made it clear we all need easy to use technology integrated into our instructional practices. In this new seminar, I will demonstrate how tech can be used flexibly to meet the needs of ELL students in any situation with minimal preparation. Learning how to use specific, easy to implement instructional strategies can show you (or remind you) how rewarding teaching with technology can be. Not only that, teaching ELL students using technology can be fun and energizing!

As an experienced teacher with an extensive background in technology and instruction, I have specifically designed this seminar with you in mind. Whether you are new to using technology with your ELL students or experienced, I know we all want to help our ELL students engage and succeed. Much like you, my classes over the years have presented me with ELL students of all learning types and backgrounds. Using a combination of tech tools and classroom tested strategies, I can help you maximize your effectiveness. I want to share with you a variety of tech tools and teaching strategies that build community, improve academic skills, and increase learning. Let me take the challenge of figuring out how to combine these tools with the instructional strategies you may already use. I would love to spend the day with you as we all learn the best ways to navigate this new, tech centered learning environment our students call their classroom.

I look forward to sharing the best of what works and how to avoid common pitfalls based on my experience with ELLs and technology. I will provide you a comprehensive list of tools and strategies as well as pro-tips to save you time and effort. It is my sincere goal that you leave this seminar excited about returning to try out many of the new ideas that you learn.

I look forward to meeting you!

Sincerely,

Tricia Cecil

P.S. I guarantee you will leave my seminar with many outstanding strategies you can use right away!

"I want to share with you a variety of tech tools and teaching strategies that build community, improve academic skills, and increase learning."

What Your Colleagues Say About Tricia Cecil
