Practical Ideas and Strategies

Research indicates that effective language instruction must provide significant levels of meaningful communication and interactive feedback in the target language in order for students to develop language and cultural proficiency ... ACTFL therefore recommends that language educators and their students use the target language as exclusively as possible (90% plus) at all levels of instruction during instructional time and, when feasible, beyond the classroom. – ACTFL Position Statement, May 2010

Do you need practical ideas to be comprehensible in the target language from the first day of class? Do you have students who do not stay in the target language? Do you have students who are not always motivated? Do you have students who need interactive activities? This engaging seminar will answer these questions with ready-to-use, low-prep activities that will help you develop a classroom atmosphere where students enjoy using their new language skills to communicate meaningful messages. You will learn to build on the characteristics of today's post-millennial students to enhance their language learning. In this outstanding seminar, award-winning world language teacher Sabrina Janczak will share dozens of highly engaging and interactive activities designed to increase comprehensible input and accelerate your students' use of the target language both inside and outside the classroom. Sabrina will share a wealth of practical, easy-to-prepare activities for language learning with variations for all levels.

You will leave this seminar with dozens of strategies you will be able to use immediately to accelerate your students' use of the target language.

A Message From Seminar Leader, Sabrina Janczak

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

Sabrina Janczak is an engaging, dynamic presenter, an award-winning world language teacher and author. Throughout her career, she has focused on finding engaging and effective ways to enable students to authentically use the target language while fostering a classroom culture where students want to use the target language. She is the recipient of her state's World Language Teacher of the Year Award and has been nominated for the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) National World Language Teacher of the Year Award. Sabrina is the author of New, Innovative Strategies for Increasing Comprehensible Input in Your WORLD LANGUAGE CLASSROOM (Grades 6-12), the extensive world language resource handbook each participant will receive at the seminar. The handbook is filled with practical, effective ways to develop communicative proficiency by meaningfully communicating in the target language.

Sabrina's seminars are known for being fun, fast paced, personable, inspiring, and filled with strategies that you can immediately implement in your world language instruction.

Dear Colleague:

How important is it to you that your students truly acquire the language you love teaching them? How often have you heard from adults around you that they took multiple years of a language while in school but they do not remember anything? This sad reality does not have to endlessly perpetuate itself.

I know from experience that there are strategies and techniques you can use that will guarantee that your students come back to your class after a summer off and still be able to understand and speak the language. This is my reality and it can be yours, too.

I invite you to join me at my seminar and share my experience to become part of that change. My students have excelled and continue to do so. My consistent goal has always been to instill in them the skills to effectively communicate in another language.

I would be honored to meet you and share my experiences with you. I know through our collaboration we can make a difference in the lives of our students. You will leave with numerous ideas you can use right away.

Sincerely,

Sabrina Janczak

P.S. This seminar is not about theory, but will instead focus on practical ideas that I know from my years in the classroom will accelerate your students' use of the target language.

"I will share techniques that will guarantee that your students come back to your class after a summer off and still be able to understand and speak the language."
