'Mr. Hedstrom provided us with so many resources, examples and ideas. I am excited to take these back to my classroom tomorrow!'

– KAREN URRITIA-MICKLER, SPANISH TEACHER

Practical Ideas and Strategies

This outstanding seminar by nationally known world language teacher, Bryce Hedstrom, has been specifically designed to help you more effectively teach for proficiency and achieve the goal of using the language 90% of the time. Bryce will present dozens of practical ideas to invigorate your world language instruction and make communication in the target language. You'll learn practical tips, activities, assignments, and strategies to more successfully engage all students, including beginners, in the target language.

Bryce will present, model and provide opportunities to practice activities and techniques during the seminar. You will find out how to integrate students' personal identities into the fabric of your class and make each student feel like the most important one in the room. You will learn new ways to ask questions and ask follow-up questions that will engage all students and let them get to know one another, like one another and respect one another better, all in the target language.

A Message From Seminar Leader, Bryce Hedstrom

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

BRYCE HEDSTROM is widely recognized as an outstanding world language teacher with more than 25 years of experience at all levels. A frequent regional, state and national presenter, he is known for helping world language teachers to enhance their existing programs by incorporating many strategies that emphasize social awareness, interpersonal communication and varied reading techniques in the classroom.

Bryce is the author of Best, Most Powerful Strategies for Teaching World Languages (Grades 6-12), the extensive resource handbook each participant will receive at the seminar. In addition, he is the author of many world language instructional materials, teacher resources and fiction and non-fiction for students Bryce's seminars emphasize practical, time-efficient strategies – all proven successful in his own classroom – that give teachers a vast array of methods and materials to significantly improve student participation leading to their more proficient use of the target language. Participants leave Bryce's seminars rejuvenated and eager to implement new strategies and ideas in their own world language classrooms.

Dear Colleague:

Some teachers seem to be born to teach. I was not one of those people. I always longed to be an effective teacher, but for years I honestly was not as effective as I wanted to be. With the help of colleagues and seminars like this one, I learned techniques that worked. Later, I developed many additional strategies of my own. I've designed this seminar to increase your learning curve and increase your teaching options by sharing what I've learned really works.

The focus of our day will be on practical strategies and techniques that will enhance your teaching for proficiency and accelerate your students' language acquisition in equitable, engaging and effective ways. This is not theory for me – I use each of these methods in my daily classes. The techniques I will share with you are grounded in the current best practice of world language instruction, the latest brain research and years of practical application. You will get the kind of insight and advice that only an experienced teacher can give you.

This seminar will include practical ideas that will help you to continue to deliver compelling, comprehensible input to your student on a sustainable basis. Classroom management, reading strategies and personalization have become areas where I have been able to help teachers the most and I will share my best ideas with you.

I am confident that you will leave the seminar energized and eager to add the practical ideas you have picked up to your own teaching repertoire. You'll leave with many additional strategies to create a learning environment that is proficiency-focused, humane and inclusive, where all students feel that they can learn the language and want to attend class.

I look forward to spending the day with you!

Sincerely,

Bryce Hedstrom

P.S. The emphasis will be on practical strategies that you can start using the day after the seminar in your own classroom.

'The focus of our day will be on practical strategies and techniques that will enhance your teaching for proficiency and accelerate your students' language acquisition.'
