Outstanding teacher, therapist and national presenter, ANGELA SEARCY will share a wealth of practical, evidence-based ideas to simultaneously help you address both the developmental and behavioral challenges of young children with special needs, while not sacrificing the needs or well-being of other children in the classroom. Utilizing hands-on activities, case studies, humor, and video clips in this fast-paced day, Angela will help you expand your repertoire of the latest, best social and emotional tools and interventions for working successfully with students with challenging behaviors. You will leave this outstanding seminar with renewed energy and confidence, equipped with dozens of practical and proven strategies to help you make a marked difference with the academic, social and emotional skills of your challenging preschool and kindergarten students.

A Message From Seminar Leader, Angela Searcy

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

ANGELA SEARCY is a teacher, therapist and national presenter who is passionate about helping educators working with young students with developmental delays and challenging behaviors. She brings experience as a development therapist and educational consultant, specializing in early intervention strategies. Angela has been featured on WGN Channel 9 Morning News, WGN's Midday Fix and Public Radio. She holds a M.S. degree in early childhood development, a doctorate in education and has researched interventions for improving behavior in preschool classrooms. Angela is author of Push Past-It! A Positive Approach to Challenging Classroom Behaviors (Gryphon House Publishing, 2019). She is also the author of Practical Early Intervention Strategies That Work: Supporting Young Children with Developmental Delays and Challenging Behaviors, the extensive resource handbook you will receive at the seminar. You will leave with a wealth of practical and proven strategies you can utilize to make a real difference in the lives of your young children with developmental delays and challenging behaviors.

Dear Colleague:

In my discussions with educators across the country, many often worry that the number of young children who exhibit challenging behaviors appears to be increasing. Addressing these behaviors and working successfully with these children can be one of our greatest obstacles to providing quality instruction, and highlights challenges including:

- How can we simultaneously meet the needs of these children while balancing the needs of our other students?
- What happens when our best intervention ideas only work for a short time or don't work at all?
- How can we best tap into this golden window of opportunity that we have for early intervention?

I have designed this seminar to help you address these challenges in order to maximize learning for young children with special needs. Prepare for an interactive day full of laughter, strategies, ideas and solutions perfect for preschool and kindergarten. Explore video, visual examples from real classrooms, songs, innovative learning activities and interventions, and much more! My goal is to provide you with an abundance of practical tools and ways to powerfully match them to the unique needs of your students and setting.

I am excited to share my ideas and expertise based on my years as a teacher, therapist and educational consultant. The strategies I present are ones I've used and found most successful in my work with countless students and schools across the country. I want to show you the most common pitfalls to avoid and to set you up for success in best reaching and teaching your young students with challenging behaviors.

Please join me for an exciting day filled with ideas you can use immediately! I look forward to meeting you at the seminar!

Sincerely,

Angela Searcy

P.S. Prepare for an interactive day! The emphasis will be on proven and practical ideas you can use immediately in your work with young children with challenging behaviors.

"My goal is to provide you with an abundance of practical tools and ways to powerfully match them to the unique needs of your students and setting."
