Practical Ideas and Strategies

Working as a special education resource teacher is a challenging job requiring numerous skills with the overall goal of maximizing the academic growth in a variety of settings for students with special needs. As a result of the wide range of disabilities and skill sets of your students, you need a plethora of strategies and tools at your fingertips. Join highly experienced special education teacher, Savanna Flakes, and expand your repertoire of strategies to accelerate academic achievement for your students with special needs. You will discover practical ways to develop and build evidenced-based practices and use Specially Designed Instruction to provide students with special needs meaningful access to rigorous curriculum. You will learn timesaving assessment tips, gain formal and informal data collection ideas and best practices to differentiate instruction. By the end of the day, you will walk away with dozens of highly practical and effective strategies and an extensive resource handbook to help you reach your goal of reaching and teaching students with special needs.

A Message From Seminar Leader, Savanna Flakes

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

SAVANNA FLAKES is an engaging and enthusiastic national presenter, special education teacher, teacher-leader, and special education consultant with a passion for working with students with special needs and their teachers. She is a National Board Certified Teacher, a National Education Technology Standards Certified Teacher and the author of Increase Your Success as a Special Education Resource Teacher, the extensive resource handbook you will receive at her seminar.

Savanna currently serves as an instructional specialist, coaching teachers, modeling effective instructional pedagogy for teachers, and providing professional development for special education teachers who serve students in resource rooms and inclusive settings. She has extensive experience in special education including co-teaching, differentiation, classroom management, and serving students with special needs in inclusive classrooms. Savanna is known for her passion and dedication to reaching diverse learners. Her seminars are exciting, hands-on and collaborative.

You will leave this seminar reinvigorated and inspired to use the dozens of innovative strategies to reach all your students with special needs in resource rooms and inclusive classrooms.

Dear Colleague:

There is an ever-increasing urgency to accelerate the learning of our students with disabilities and provide them access to rigorous curriculum and instruction. As this population increases and resources often decrease, I know and understand the daily challenges you face as you work to meet each and every student's needs in resource rooms and inclusive settings. I'm excited to share what I have found works to strengthen your role as a special education teacher in your school.

During this unique seminar, my goal is to provide you with numerous strategies to help you seamlessly integrate high-yield instructional practices, Specially Designed Instruction and technology into your curriculum and instruction. Motivating reluctant learners, supporting social-emotional behavior, integrating educational technology to provide access to the curriculum, differentiated instruction and grouping, dynamic assessment, and cooperative learning are just some of the topics we will explore. You will learn hands-on strategies to increase your effectiveness as a special education teacher, build expertise and reboot your instructional toolkit to improve achievement of students with special needs.

Join your colleagues and me for this fast-paced seminar devoted specifically to special education resource teachers. You will leave excited, refreshed and ready to try new approaches and ideas to solve challenging situations. We will discuss real-life examples, and I will provide practical suggestions and tools that will assist you in accelerating the learning of your students with special needs. I extend to you a warm, personal invitation to join me in the continual learning and sharing work of ensuring student success. I pledge that you will leave this seminar with dozens of effective instructional strategies for accelerating student achievement and decreasing the achievement gap of students with special needs.

Sincerely,

Savanna Flakes

P.S. You will leave this seminar with a new way of looking at what can be accomplished with students and a wealth of practical strategies that can be immediately implemented in your classroom.

"You will learn hands-on strategies to increase your effectiveness as a special education teacher, build expertise and reboot your instructional toolkit to improve achievement of students with special needs."
